

University of Missouri Department of Anthropology seeks a full-time, tenure-track cultural anthropologist at the Assistant or Associate Professor level to contribute to the department's focus on human evolution, ecology and adaptation beginning in August 2012. Ph.D. preferred at time employment begins. Applications from individuals with interests in human ecology, social cooperation, cultural transmission, and an active fieldwork program would be particularly welcome. Geographic area is open. Typical courses include introductory cultural anthropology, ethnographic methods, and geographic area. Successful applicant will teach 2 courses/semester, advise graduate and undergraduate students, publish, and seek outside grant funding. Please apply at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic> with a cover letter, CV, reprints, evidence of teaching ability, and names and contact information for three references should be attached in the Cover Letters and Attachments Section of the application system. Applications will be reviewed beginning Nov. 14, 2011 and continue until position is filled. The University of Missouri is an EO/AA/ADA employer.